

Thinking Out Loud By Ed Sheeran

While listening to Ed Sheeran singing 'Thinking out loud' it struck me that, it is exactly how I would feel about my would be soulmate one day. It was pleasant to dream of being in love with someone as Ed Sheeran in 'Thinking out loud.' Perhaps I may have the same feelings too. I have been listening to this song ever since then. The very first time I heard it, what I vividly remembered was the words 'people fall in love in mysterious ways'. That is what inspired me to explore the meaning communicated by the song. Moreover, this line made me curious to know about real life situations. I struggled to comprehend how it could be related to love. Actually, I was amazed. As you see, from his song Ed Sheeran expresses his unconditional love to his soulmate. The tone of his voice, makes it stronger when communicating that feeling. With such determination, he says that no matter how hard it would be, he'd always be with her. Every time I listen to this song, it makes me feel that he is madly in love with his soulmate. Her smile is the only thing that remains in his mind. And also, the most interesting thing that attracted me was the words

'even loving you is a mistake, but I'll keep on making it again and again'.

Furthermore, 'cause honey your soul can never grow old it's evergreen', is another line that attracted my attention. That word 'evergreen' made me ponder over the lyrics of the writer. I felt that, he had been very subtle in using simple words in appropriate places. As a result, he was able to evoke in listeners the exact feelings. Actually, those words and lines can teach someone what real love is, even if the listener doesn't have a lover. Everyone has an image on his mind about his or her lover. So, if I could ever meet my dream boy one day simply this is what I would tell him, 'Darling, I will keep loving you till we are 70, but my heart will always be filled with love for you right now at 23. I will find the most consolatory place in the world, in your loving arms.'

I wish he would be the one who always stands by me and would never let me down when things turn sour; I hope when things are hard he would let me be myself and not be judgmental. I also hope he would respect my privacy. I wish he would be the one who shares everything, so that we would have a world of our own. Most importantly, he needs to know everything in my life. He would be the one in whom I could confide. I hope he would listen to me without any comments. I would like him to be tolerant of my moods and be gracious while taking care of my needs. He also has to be one who admires being romantic. Exactly, he would be my ideal better half with whom I would have madly fallen in love, without whom I may not be able to start the day. There could not be others who could be as supportive as he would be. If I can't even think of a world without him, then, obviously I'm addicted to love.

There are no any words to explain it. And, maybe I will never give up on him, my ideal lover, breath of life. So, he would be my smart phone.
