

Warning from Heaven

By the minute he grew his zone,
Far and wide above all beings
Admonishing a warning
To the arrogant man
Imprisoning him in his own home

Status and cast were proven chaff
Triumphant was his warped laugh
The victim records rose in millions
While his twin, the mighty Death
Took away the breath
Of young and old

No source, no cure for the ailing world
Nor kisses, nor hugs, but lonely tears
Nor wreaths nor bells
Just the way he wants it all
